BITTER FIGHTING IS REPORTED RAGING ON MADAGASCAR

Strategic Island Seized To Prevent Occupation By Japs

BULLETIN
Vichy, Unoccupied France, May 5—(P)—Jules Brevie, secretary of state for colonies in the Laval government, declared tonight that the Vichy forces on Madagascar were resolved to defend the island against the British occupation expedition and saluted the "valiant troops guarding the honor of the flag" there. Brevie's statement was the first official Vichy reaction to the British-American announcements that British forces had been landed on the strategic French island in the Indian ocean.

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Bitter fighting was reported raging today on the north end of 1,000-mile-long French Madagascar, the world's fourth largest island, as British sea-borne forces attacked toward the Diego Suarez naval base for a surprise landing.

France's 86-year-old Chief of State Petain and Admiral Darlan, anti-British chief of French armed forces, were reported to have sent messages to the commander in chief at Madagascar urging the troops "resist attack and defend the honor of the French flag."

London military quarters said the British, striking to forestall a suspected Axis attempt to seize the strategic territory, had captured French batteries.

A German broadcast said there had been French casualties and at fighting continued more than 36 hours after British troops landed yesterday at Courrier Bay, 10 miles across the isthmus from Diego Suarez.

The broadcast said it was not known yet whether the British landing operations had succeeded.

DNE, the German news agency, reports that a French submarine and a tender had been sunk at Madagascar resisting the British landing.

French reservists were said to have been called up, with orders to fight the British.

There was no immediate indication on whether Japanese naval units, the nearest Axis striking force, were on route to dispute the British coup.

A Japanese armada of three battleships, five aircraft carriers, and flotillas of destroyers as well as cruisers was recently reported operating in the Bay of Bengal.

German dispatches said British naval and air forces first appeared at Diego Suarez yesterday and attacked a seven-hour ultimatum to the British attack then started.

A Washington statement last night declared the dawn landing was made with "the full approval and support of the government of the United States," and hinted at five American military aid against resistance.

The British declared bluntly that a coup was executed to prevent Japanese seizure of Madagascar, and that France's pro-Axis Premier Pierre Laval directs the city regime.

A Tokyo broadcast commented grily: "The Madagascar occupation is direct aggression against Vichy and is bound to result in a further cooling of Vichy's relations with the United Nations and bring closer cooperation between Berlin and Italy."

London diplomatic quarters hailed the coup as having "greatly proved" the Allies' position in the Indian ocean, already brightened by the reported presence of a mighty new U. S. Battleships Washington and North Carolina in the waters.

While attention centered on Madagascar, the situation in the title of Burma grew more critical for the Allies.

Japanese troops invaded China's Yunnan province after driving up the Burma road and crossing the shallow Wanting river, 670 miles from this capital, a military spokesman said.

Bitter fighting is in progress in the area around the border town of Wanting, still in Chinese hands, the spokesman reported.

He declared that destruction of the Chinese section of the Burma road, which winds through sheer mountains and gaping gorges, had not yet been necessary but that the Chinese would carry out their scorched-earth policy if necessary.

The Japanese claimed their air force already had carried a heavy raid on Yungchang, about 100 miles inside the province where the Burma road crosses the upper reaches of the great Mekong river. A dispatch to the Tokyo newspaper Asahi, indicating that an air base had been established there, said the raiders destroyed nine planes, seven of which were grounded. The dispatch added that the town had been left in flames.

Thus in little less than two months, the Japanese invaders of Burma had driven 500 miles from Rangoon to China's back door. The great Burma port, which the Japanese have since utilized as its main supply base, fell March 8.

The advance to Wanting represented a 90-mile drive along the Burma supply road from Lashio, the railroad which was wrested from the outnumbered and outgunned.

SMALL VOLUME OF GAS IS NOW FLOWING EAST
Philadelphia, May 5—(P)—The east-west flow in the Keystone pipeline between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh has already been reversed to bring gasoline to the east but the volume is less than half the line's capacity.

A spokesman for the Atlantic Refining Company said federal priorities for electrical power equipment to operate pumping stations on the western slopes of the Allegheny mountains must be obtained to boost the west-east flow to full capacity.

Suction, rather than booster force, is now being used to pull the gasoline east but the method is not strong enough to keep the line full, the spokesman said.

The mid-day communiqué reverted to this phraseology to describe the overnight situation on the front.

Primary Elections Are Being Held In Five States Today

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Potter of Alabama, Florida, Indiana and South Dakota express their choice for candidates today in primary elections marked by an absence of international issues and little disagreement over domestic issues.

The polling is expected to show decline in interest in politics due to preoccupation with the war. The election was shown last month in Illinois election, the country's first wartime primary. In the four states candidates will be chosen for 28 house seats and two in the senate. Senator Bankhead of Alabama has no opposition.

Senator Bulow of South Dakota is seeking Democratic renomination with a pledge of support for President Roosevelt on the war program but a reservation to oppose any domestic policies he believes unsound.

100 Lawyers Cited By Bar Association

Unethical Conduct Charged In Prosecuting Of Damage Cases

OTHERS ARE INVOLVED

Philadelphia, May 5—(P)—The Philadelphia Bar Association was reported today to have accused 100 lawyers of unethical conduct in damage cases involving more than $1,500,000 during 1938, 1939 and 1940.

An investigator said many of the lawyers would be cited for censure in a report drawn up by the Association's committee of censors for presentation to the board of judges of common pleas court.

Most of the citations were said to be based on charges of ambulance-chasing arising out of automobile accidents. During the three-year period it was understood the report included names of physicians and police who allegedly furnished tips leading to potential clients.

The report was drawn up by John Winterstein, chairman of the bar committee, and James N. Laferty, the committee's special counsel.

The committee, which studied more than 3,000 cases, was given $5,000 a year ago by the association to carry on its investigation.

IDENTIFICATION TAGS FOR PENNSYLVANIA
Harrisburg, May 5—(P)—The State Council of Defense today started distribution of 100,000 casualty identification tags under a $100,000,000 congressional appropriation for national defense supplies and equipment.

The metal tags, arranged in books of 20 each, were sent to county chiefs of emergency medical service on a basis of county population. The total for Pennsylvania will be ultimately increased to 200,000 or about one book for each 1000 residents.

The tags are to be affixed to the wrists or ankles of air raid casualties by the first member of a rescue squad to reach them.

Philippines Without Mail
Washington, May 5—(P)—The war department disclosed today that no mail had been delivered to American forces in the Philippines since December 8, and virtually none had been received from the islands.

The army postal service has received scores of letters from parents of soldiers complaining that mail for their sons has been returned to them and they have not received word from the soldiers since December, the department said.

It was explained that because of the Japanese blockade, mail for soldiers in the Philippines was being sent by the Japanese.

BEAVERBROOK BACK IN A BRITISH PORT
London, May 5—(P)—Lord Beaverbrook, British publisher, who has been in Washington on a special mission, arrived at a south-west British port this morning while members of commons were asking where he was.

Major Clement R. Attlee, secretary of state for dominion affairs, had told questioners he did not know the whereabouts of Beaverbrook.

FAR-REACHING ORDER ISSUED BY THE W.P.B.

Thousands of Manufacturing Plants Are Affected By Latest Decree To Conserve Steel

VIOLATION IS CRIME
Washington, May 5—(P)—The iron and steel that go into the product of peaceful and pleasant living today were ordered poured into the crucibles of war.

General conservation order M-126, the most sweeping yet issued by the War Production Board, directs thousands of manufacturing plants to stop within 90 days all use of the metals needed for guns and planes and tanks and bullets.

Manufacturers of more than 400 common products in every day use were affected, along with thousands of wholesalers, distributors, jobbers, retailers and all their employees.

The consuming public was warned against receiving articles known to have been produced in violation of the order, and violation was made a crime, punishable by fine or imprisonment.

The order was regarded as a knockout blow to the durable goods industry. Any plant that cannot shift to the manufacture of war materials must shut down for the duration. There were some exceptions, such as the making of certain articles needed for repair or maintenance work, hospital equipment, etc., but the over-all effect was to ban the manufacture of such common products as bath tubs, cash registers, cigarette lighters, mail boxes, fountain pens, pie plates, waste baskets, tea pots, swivel chairs, slide fasteners, voting machines, and all novelties and souvenirs and Christmas tree ornaments.

When present stocks are exhausted the handy man around the house will have to fashion his own fixtures—saws, hammers and screw drivers were excepted from the list.

The decree was the avalanche that followed preliminary orders against the manufacture of automobiles, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, typewriters and other selected articles.

Limited production will be permitted for 90 days, but after that no metal may be used "except gold or silver."

Philadelphia, May 5—(P)—Businessmen can appeal from the government's order halting use of iron or steel in manufacturing some 400 civilian articles, the regional War Production Board said today—but they'll be wasting their time carrying complaints to Washington.

All appeals in eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey, eastern Maryland, Delaware and Virginia must be made at the nearest of the 18 WPB offices to be established in the region, the board said. None will be sent to the Washington office.

Confusion Of Laws Proving A Handicap
Washington, May 5—(P)—Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board, demanded today removal of non-essential laws and regulations which hamper transportation or conservation of war materials.

Speaking to a conference of the state representatives called by President Roosevelt, the WPB head said, "We are repeatedly finding that our struggle to save these materials is being tripped up by some non-essential state or local law, not only in transportation and in building construction but all across the board."

Nelson said one of the principal problems was the confusion of state and local laws which limit the size, cargo and other features of commercial trucking.

He continued, "We have an acute shortage of paint brush bristles and we keep running into local ordinances which limit the use of spray painting equipment. We want to conserve the material that is used to make flour sacks—and we can't simply sack sizes effectively because of the conflicts in state laws governing those sizes."

Saying that many of these laws were passed over a series of years for the selfish interests of particular businesses or labor groups, Nelson warned, "We can't win a war that way."

Speaking of the trucking regulations, Nelson said the "shortages of gas, rubber and repair parts are going to give our motor transport a real headache."

Weekly Social Justice Folds
Washington, May 5—(P)—Banned from the mails as a seditious magazine, the National Weekly Social Justice has ceased publication.

The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, who founded the magazine six years ago and who recently accepted "full responsibility" for it, telegraphed Postmaster General Frank C. Walker yesterday that he approved the action of its editor in announcing that the magazine would "not hereafter be published."

The announcement came as three assistant postmasters general met to consider charges by Attorney (Turn to Page Seven)

Borough Council Takes Steps To Close Street To Provide For Expansion of Industry

Merchant Remembers Customers in Will

Avonmore, May 5—(P)—Thomas Porter Sturgeon, who amassed a sizeable fortune from a country store he built in a wheat field, remembered his customers in his will by directing that any of the unpaid grocery bills should be settled for half the amount.

The 80-year-old grocer, known to friends in this Westmoreland county community as the "merchant prince of Avonmore," also directed a 50 per cent cut in unpaid rents, mortgages and interest. He died Friday.

The will, filed yesterday in Greensburg, was written three years ago on white paper, the kind used for wrapping packages in his ramshackle store.

Executors estimated that some of the unpaid grocery bills ran as high as $1800. At one time, relatives said, interest on loans alone netted Sturgeon $1,000 monthly.

Extension Of Gas Rationing Is Discussed

Deputy Petroleum Coordinator Says Action Will Depend on Developments

QUOTA IS NOT DECIDED
Washington, May 5—(P)—Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum coordinator, said today that it depended entirely on developments in the oil transportation situation whether or not gasoline rationing would have to be spread to states other than those on the east coast.

In a formal statement pointing out that transportation facilities of other areas has been diverted to aid the eastern states, Davies warned that "it is quite possible that shortages may develop in the areas" from which such facilities are diverted.

"And we see no reason why the east coast alone should be forced to bear all the hardships and inconveniences" resulting from the oil transportation difficulties, he said as he commented "after all, this is every American's war."

Curtailments are in effect in the east and Pacific northwest and rationing of gasoline in the east by a card system has been ordered effective May 15 due to the critical supply situation.

Coordinator Harold L. Ickes planned to advise Price Administrator Henderson during the day on the degree of rationing he considers essential.

Appearing before a congressional committee yesterday, Ickes ridiculed again a report from one semi-official source that the cards might cut motorists to as low as 2½ gallons of gasoline a week. Consumption of motor fuel now is restricted by one-third in the east and Oregon and Washington, through limitation of supplies to filling stations.

Davies explained that so long as the cards system is in effect, rationing of gasoline in the east by a card system has been ordered effective May 15 due to the critical supply situation.

MAN CHARGED WITH RATION CARD THEFTS
Pittsburgh, May 5—(P)—Nineteen true bills have been returned by the federal grand jury, including the first indictment in the western Pennsylvania district for stealing sugar rationing stamps.

The indictments include: Cleo Easton, Seelye, alias "Eabe" Seelye, stealing U. S. property. He is charged with taking 200 sugar rationing stamps from Rosedale school, Johnstown, on March 18, 1942.

Commissions For Civilians Has Support
Washington, May 5—(P)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson told the house military committee today the war department "is not in favor of" legislation to prohibit the commissioning of untrained civilians as army officers.

The committee last week approved the legislation, offered by Rep. Charles I. Faddis (D-Pa.), as a rider to the army pay bill, but reopened the case today at the request of the war department.

Patterson told the committee it was necessary that the army be allowed to take advantage of the skill of civilians regardless of their military experience. Had it not (Turn to Page Seven)

Large Building Program Is Planned By Struthers-Wells Company

PASSES TWO READINGS
Proposed expansion of one of Warren's principal industries was disclosed at the May meeting of the Warren borough council, held last evening at the municipal building, when officials of the Struthers-Wells Company petitioned for the closing of Chestnut street between Pennsylvania and Fourth avenues.

Members of council passed on two readings an ordinance for the abandonment of the thoroughfare for the duration of the war and it is expected that final action will be taken at the June meeting.

According to H. W. Conarro, vice president of the Struthers-Wells Company, in order to meet increasing production demands, it is necessary to increase the size of the local plant. It is proposed to extend the present building on the southwest corner of Chestnut street and Fourth avenue, which is now used as a storage space.

If final approval is given to the abandonment of Chestnut street, that section would be used as a storage space, enclosed by a high fence. A railroad siding would be built into the space.

Mr. Conarro pointed out that the increased facilities of the plant would mean the hiring of 75 to 100 additional men.

P. D. Bellnap, local agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad, gave assurance that the railroad would open the drive at the rear of the station as a public thoroughfare, providing it is maintained by the borough.

E. D. Wetmore, Dr. O. S. Brown, N. K. Wendelboe and Miss Mayme Wendelboe appeared on behalf of the property owners of Watson place, asking that it be opened as a public street. This matter was referred to the street committee.

Council approved the annual Memorial Day contribution of not more than $37.50 each to the Eben N. Ford Post, G. A. R.; Dinsmoor-Schwartz Post, No. 631, V. F. W.; Chief Complanter Post, American Legion; and Lewis M. Clark Camp, United Spanish War Veterans.

In keeping with other increases granted to borough employees previously, a ten per cent increase in (Turn to Page Seven)

AXIS PLANES BOMB ALEXANDRIA PORT
Rome (From Italian Broadcasts)—May 5—(P) Axis planes bombed port installations and railway at Alexandria over night, the Italian high command reported today.

It said one German plane destroyed a four-engine plane of an American type, while Crenala Italian planes shot down two British Spitfires and anti-aircraft shot down on British plane participating in a raid on Bengasi.

In ruling on the May 2 issue, Vincent M. Miles, postoffice department solicitor, made it clear that the decision on this particular issue would have no effect on the proceeding instituted to bar the weekly publication from the mails.

Assistant District Attorney Earle Jackson told the jury yesterday he will introduce a statement which Wilson is purported to have given to police shortly after his arrest. Jackson said Wilson admitted murdering Miss Harber.

HEAVY PACE MAINTAINED BY THE RAF

Major Manufacturing City In Southwest Germany Is Target For Mighty Air Assault

GUNS SHELL CONVOY
London, May 5—(P)—Long-range RAF bombers struck in force last night at Stuttgart, a major manufacturing city of southwest Germany, the Skoda armament works at Pilsen in Nazi-occupied Czechoslovakia and the docks of Nantes on missions which cost three planes, the British air ministry announced today.

A detachment of Stirlings, heavy 4-motored craft, was assigned the 1,400-mile round trip to attack the Skoda works, which were blasted and fired by British airmen on a previous visit last April 25.

The air ministry communiqué gave no details of the indicated results of the new raids.

"Aircraft of the fighter command attacked enemy air fields in France," it said. "Coastal command aircraft attacked shipping off the coast of Holland and Norway and bombed the Mandal (Norway) airbase."

British long-range guns, apparently shelling a Nazi convoy in Dover Strait or French shore objectives, fired spasmodically over one and a half hours early today. Their mighty flashes illuminated the English coast. RAF planes, perhaps on reconnaissance, were heard crossing the channel at the same time.

The fresh aerial blow at Germany was another in a new series started Sunday night after weather conditions had restricted bombing operations for 72 hours.

Stuttgart is an important manufacturing city of about 500,000 population in southwestern Germany, which contributes machinery, electrical equipment and textiles to the Nazi war machine. The modern capital of Wuertemberg, it lies near the Neckar river, a tributary of the Rhine. (DNE, German news agency announced Stuttgart had been bombed during the night.)

German bombers, which observers said apparently were escorted by fighter planes for the first time in their current reprisal raids, struck sharply at two southern English coastal regions and the government stated "some casualties and damage were caused." The (Turn to Page Seven)

Son of Former Rector Here Has Thrilling Experience

A recent issue of the Bethlehem Churchman, bi-monthly publication of the Bethlehem Episcopal Diocese, contains a very interesting article concerning James Lawrence Ware, Jr., whose father, the Rev. J. L. Ware, formerly was rector of Trinity Memorial church here and is now rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Scranton. It follows:

"One of the most exciting war experiences to come to young men of the Diocese is that related by James L. Ware, Jr., whose father is the Rev. J. L. Ware, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Scranton.

"As third officer on an unnamed freighter plying the Atlantic, 20-year old James Ware happened to be off duty on the night of March 5th, when a torpedo crashed into the vessel. Wakened by the explosion he jumped into pants and a sweatshirt, reported to the captain and then to his lifeboat station. Of two lifeboats on his side of the ship, one had cast off and the second was blown in two. A third lifeboat was also found to be useless and the 25 remaining men scrambled and dove as was necessary to get aboard one boat designed for 10 men. There was only a matter of minutes to spare.

"One of the last to jump, James Ware dove for the overloaded boat and was pulled aboard as the sinking freighter began to create a furious suction. Even the lifeboat itself threatened to join the ship in its final plunge. At that moment a second torpedo struck the freighter with such a blast that the lifeboat was hurled 50 feet from the suction pool, saving the lives of all. Within seven minutes all of the above occurred and the freighter was gone from sight.

"Drenched the men huddled in their lifeboat in the freezing night for an hour and a half before a Royal Canadian Air Force plane spotted them, dipped its wings and disappeared. Two or three hours later they were picked up by a British freighter and taken to Halifax, where they were given the best of care by the Red Cross.

"The first knowledge James' parents had of the event was a telegram reading, 'Ship went down but I did not. Home soon. Love Jim'. A joyous reunion took place at Lackawanna station in Scranton when Rev. and Mrs. Ware, with their daughter, Priscilla, welcomed their boy home.

"Suffering from a severe cold, sinus headache and a racking cough, the young officer is rapidly recuperating, but his experience fails in the least to dampen his ardor for the sea. Already he is planning for his next voyage and will soon return to his post as third officer under the Maritime Commission."

Official Seal of Approval Given To Hospital Service

The official seal of approval of the American Hospital Association has been bestowed upon the Hospital Service Association which represents the Warren General Hospital in the non-profit group hospitalization plan.

Several rigid specifications had to be met before the award was made. Among these qualifications were direct hospital sponsorship, non-profit corporate structure and freedom of choice in entertaining a participating hospital.

Such approval is given only to the regular hospital-sponsored projects which act in behalf of the hospitals of their respective communities in the movement to make hospital treatment available just as soon as it is required. The American Hospital Association represents the hospitals throughout the United States and Canada.

The Hospital Service Association reveals that reports received from other sections of the country show that in every case where the hospitals have cooperated in making hospital care available as a non-profit community project the public response has been enthusiastic.

Lutherans Of Warren Help In Campaign

Lutheran churches of Warren, with all parishes of the United Lutheran Church and Augustana Synod, will participate in May in a nationwide appeal in behalf of their ministry to men in the armed services and war-orphaned foreign missions, according to an announcement made by Rev. Bertil Edquist and Rev. Edward K. Rogers, pastors of St. Paul's and First church here.

Thousands of congregations will take part in this drive, called Lutheran World Action and aimed at a goal of $650,000. Of the total, $250,000 is earmarked for ministry to service men, inaugurated by the Service Commission of the National Lutheran Council early in 1941.

Since its inception, the commission has set up 31 service centers adjoining the largest concentrations of Lutheran men and staffed them with pastors responsible for ministering to spiritual needs of the service men. The fact that these pastors have personal interviews with about 5,000 men each month is evidence of the real effectiveness of this phase of the work.

The centers are visited each month by about 25,000 men, who come to attend worship services or Bible classes, to play games, to cook their own meals, to read, to use the center's dark room for photography or any of the many other facilities, a program which does not conflict in any way with that of the U. S. O. The Service Commission has also initiated a service to chaplains in the army and navy, sending them names and addresses of soldiers, prayer books, tracts, field communion sets, religious periodicals.

Everything in excess of the above sum will be used to support foreign missions cut off by war, and the Lutheran Refugee Service. Directors of Lutheran World Action have also decided to contribute to the work of the Y. M. C. A. War Prisoners' Aid which serves men in prison camp in all parts of the world, and to the emergency fund of the American Bible Society.

School Directors Retain Tax Rate For Year at 21 Mills

Presentation and discussion of the budget for the coming fiscal year dominated last evening's monthly meeting of the Warren borough school directors, with the quorum present finally agreeing, after considerable debating, to retain the present tax rate of 21 mills and a per capita tax of $2.00, and passing the budget to be publicly advertised.

The total figure for the coming year is $350,951.56, an increase of approximately $12,000 over last year's figure of $348,618.32.

Another topic brought before the board was presented by a representative of the Times-Mirror Sunset Baseball League, asking permission to repair the infield of Russell Field to make possible revival of community baseball this season.

After brief discussion, the board granted permission for such a program and for the Sunset League to use the diamond under the condition that the grounds committee of the board, not represented last evening, also agree and that the project of re-finishing the diamond be carried on under the guidance of Director of Athletics J. B. Leidy.

A request for sabbatical leave, submitted by W. A. Lafferty, was granted and the resignation of Miss Lunette Havens was accepted. A request submitted by High School Physical Instructor Henry G. Kolpin for a raise in salary was refused.

The board passed a motion to allow an excused absence of one day for L. J. Noecker, James Springer and Robert Jewell, expected to be called for examination for selective service.

The directors agreed to approve emergency dismissal of high school boys for their use in fighting forest fires, under a new program of fered by the Department of Forests and Waters, provided that the parents of these boys sign individual statements for such approval also.

A request was refused to allow the high school band to represent an out-of-town lodge in the coming parade in connection with the Moose convention to be held here in June, but gave permission for the band to march in the Memorial Day parade this month, at the same time granting the a cappella choir permission to appear at the American Legion Home for a program, Sunday, May 24, in connection with Memorial Day.

Ralph C. Waterhouse, a high school instructor, was granted permission to make a survey of all school shops in McKean and Warren counties, as he was assigned by the state department of defense training program, with his expenses voted to be billed to the state. Superintendent John G. Rossman received permission to attend a meeting in Harrisburg May 11-12 of school officials.

Reports were submitted by committees and all were approved and passed by the board, including the building and repairs committee, textbooks and supplies committee.

NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK

The 1942 Music Week, ushered in Sunday, is being observed in more than 3,000 cities and towns throughout the United States alone, according to a statement issued by C. M. Tremaine, secretary of the National and Inter-American Music Week committee.

The movement, which took its inspiration from New York's first Music Week in 1920, has expanded far beyond these geographical limits. The Inter-American phase, inaugurated last year, has brought expressions of interest from the ambassadors and ministers of all the Latin American countries. The five chief territorial possessions of the United States have long been included, with special participation annually in Alaska, Hawaii and the Canal Zone. This year the United Nations have been invited to participate as well.

On the radio, in the churches, in the concert halls and in group meetings of thousands of local organizations, according to Mr. Tremaine, there will be tribute to music, and for seven days, at least, thoughts of war and conflict will be blended with a wider appreciation of the harmonizing influence of music. The government's encouragement to Music Week has been given by President Roosevelt in a letter to the National Committee, and has been supplemented by proclamations issued by the governors of most of the states and territories.

An important development in this year's observance is a campaign to increase the use of music in war production and in industry generally, as a means of counteracting nerve strain, monotony and fatigue. Many of the local Music Week committees are making a study of conditions in their towns as to the benefits resulting from the establishment of musical activities in industrial plants. The National Music Week Committee is gathering information on the subject from different parts of the country, and is especially desirous of obtaining suggestions for adapting musical programs to varying plant conditions and types of work.

It is cooperating with the National Federation of Music Clubs, the National Recreation Association, the Music Educators National Conference, the Office of Civilian Defense, the Associated Glee Clubs and other organizations in the promotion of group singing in training camps and among the civilian population.

TO PUMP OIL EAST

As stated in an Associated Press dispatch last week a pipeline constructed for the service of refineries from Atlantic ports to refineries in the interior is soon to witness the flow of oil eastward.

The line, from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, is being reversed to help meet the pressing need for oil resulting from the diversion and sinking of tankers. The Keystone pipeline, as it is known, will deliver about 20,000 barrels of crude in the Philadelphia area every day.

Meanwhile, all available tank cars are in service to help ease the situation which confronts the country. There is no denying the fact that the sinking of tankers has been a blow—and it comes at a time, too, when the railroads have about all the traffic they could handle in normal times. Only these have become abnormal times—and there is a growing demand for more motive power and more cars.

Good news for the community in general was revealed at the May meeting of council last evening when a request was received from the Struthers-Wells Co., for the closing of Chestnut street between Fourth and Pennsylvania avenues to provide for necessary expansion, which will mean the hiring of an additional 75 to 100 men.

The drop in temperature may give the candidates a chance to cool off again before entering the home stretch in the primary campaign.

Due to the excellent organization perfected in the schools the issuing of sugar rationing cards seems to be going along without a hitch of any kind in this community.

About time for the 1942 peach crop to be blasted!

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—The spring lull on Capitol Hill is almost over. The President practically put an end to it the other day when he tossed in his message to Congress outlining the administration's ideas of the legislative needs to prevent that vicious spiral of prices and wages that is called inflation.

The finishing touches on anything that faintly resembles Congressional compromise will come when the chips are in with your reactions to the President's fire-side chat, explaining those administration ideas to you and you.

THERE is one peculiar thing about this lull in the Capitol chambers and corridors, and that is that through it all Congress has been sitting quietly on more dynamite than has been seen around here in a year or more. This dynamite is in the form of bills introduced, bills in committee, bills ready for debate and a vote—all of them dealing with those vital matters of price control, rationing, the wages and hours of labor, the wartime regulation of labor unions, corporate and personal profits, ceilings on incomes. And any one or all of these, if passed, could have more effect on you, whether you warm luxurious leather behind a mahogany desk in Wall Street, or hoe a rocky acre at the forks of the creek, than anything that has been done since Pearl Harbor.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Peggy Wood, during her busy life has run across four other Peggy Woods. (Let it be firmly established that the star of "Blithe Spirit" came by her name at birth, and that it is not an adopted name merely because it looks well on the lighted marquee of theaters.)

The first "other" Peggy encountered was a night club singer, who took the name just because she liked it. The next "same-name" was a radio singer in Boston. The third, Miss Wood never met, but she read with interest in a Pittsburgh society column that "Peggy Wood, tall, graceful like a gladiator, had been a sought-after garden fete guest."

The last one Miss Wood recalls most vividly of all. A little old lady who sold stockings found a way backstage and after a profitable sale said wistfully, "I have a daughter I have not seen in 20 years and her name is Peggy Wood. I often wonder what became of her." The alarmed Miss Wood, before she found herself reclaimed as the long-lost offspring, quickly showed her the picture of her own mother which is always found on her dressing-room table.

THE local air raid wardens who have post offices in their districts have run into a little problem that will have to be ironed out. There's a federal law that says a light has to be burning in

It took a lot of phlegmating by administrative leaders on the hill to keep Congress sitting quietly while the President drew up his overall program.

That Connally bill in the Senate, not a drastic measure in itself but clearing the way for argument and possible amendments on every labor issue from wage control to the closed shop, almost blew the lid off.

ALTHOUGH still in committee, the Smith-Vinson bill in the House of Representatives threatened to cause a similar explosion in the Capitol's south wing.

The President's right hand men in Congress had some bad moments before they got all this dynamite wrapped up and labeled not to be opened until the President had had his say.

Those who crave action may be asking why the delay. I know at least the administration answer. It is simply that they don't want any laws passed in the heat of battle that might boomerang on the war effort. Some of the laws proposed, in the opinion of the administration, might have done just that. That's why the President took a hand. That's how the lull came about.

But it's almost over and if you like legislative fireworks, keep your eyes on Capitol Hill. Only a drenching downpour of public indifference can put out the fuses now.

government post offices at all times. During a recent blackout, every light in the district was doused except this one pale light in the P.O. As was his duty, the warden reported the light. The local defense council at once took up the question. But the post office people pointed to the federal law. Nobody at this moment knows who is going to back down, but something is going to have to be done. Either the blackouts will be a farce, or the law, in this one instance at least, will have to be amended.

STREET conversation has taken a decided aerial twist, though often erroneously. In this eastern seaboard community it is a rare moment when one can not find at least one Army plane in the skies overhead. Most of the time you can see any number of planes on their practice maneuvers. People now stand on street corners and declare loudly, "That's a P-40," or "There goes a P-38," or "Look at that medium bomber!"

Actually, they are almost always wrong. Most civilians in their new found air-mindedness still have a lot to learn in identifying ships. Billy de Wolfe has earned a great reputation as a mime, and his impersonations of entire shows is one of the tricks that continually win return engagements for him at New York's hotels and night clubs. He is also the best impersonator of Boris Karloff and Lon Chaney in the business.

Sugar Available For Those Possessing Rationing Books

Harrisburg, May 5.—(P)—Sugar returned to the grocers' shelves today—but only those with ration books could purchase it.

The week-long ban on sales ended with the commonwealth deep in its task of registering an estimated 10,000,000 domestic users. Reports indicated everything went smoothly yesterday, the first day for acquiring ration books. Registration continues through Thursday.

From now until probably the end of the war, customers must present stamps for each sugar purchase. One stamp is good for one pound of sugar every two weeks—for each adult and child.

This quota was fixed for the first rationing period which ends June 27, and after that time the stamp value may go up or down, depending upon the amount of sugar on hand.

State rationing headquarters said early today that reports from 62 out of 67 counties showed 2,697,000 men, women and children were registered.

Officials of the rationing board and the Office of Price Administration are very well pleased with the progress made during the first day," declared E. Elmer Transeau, state rationing administrator. "Everything moved smoothly on the whole x x x."

Transeau said every effort would be made to complete the registration in the allotted four days. County figures showed that from 12 to 60 per cent of county populations registered on the opening day.

Officials reported long lines at many schools but said the registrants were cheerful and given to expressions that sugar rationing was no sacrifice.

While housewives were well informed on what data was required the time needed to register individual families proved a bottleneck. It was found that it took nearly three-quarters of an hour to enroll a family of five.

On the job were some 55,000 teachers and volunteer helpers at the state's 7,172 elementary schools to help consumers fill out the forms and issue ration books.

PRO GOLFERS QUALIFY FOR PGA TOURNEY

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, May 5—(AP)—Pro golfers are so happy their own private tourney, the annual PGA classic, didn't become a war victim that many showed their gratitude yesterday by hurrying through their qualifying tests four days ahead of schedule.

The golfers who make dollars and not dimes with their clubs had been told to congregate at 28 selected sites on May 8 to determine who would compete at Abscon, N. J., on May 25 to 31. Exactly half the places got the job done yesterday.

Approximately 100 play-for-play golfers from the 28 sectionals will join 24 others who were excused because of membership on the Ryder Cup team or having won the PGA title previously.

This year pros in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps may compete in the PGA, the only one of the customary national golf tournaments to survive the country's entrance into the war, without passing the tests. Victor Ghezzi, one of Uncle Sam's soldiers, is the defending champion.

Of the players on the courses yesterday, Ernie Ball of Charlottesville, Va., made the most threatening gesture in Ghezzi's direction with a 139 on the Burning Tree course at Washington to take the day's medal honors. Ben Loving, playing at the Woodland Country Club, Newton, Mass., and Rut Coffey, of Hagerstown, Md., shot 140s.

"Harry Cooper, now of Minneapolis, shot a five-under-par but finished with a 141 in the Minnesota city.

Scores generally were high, a card that read 80-73-155 winning a berth for Veri Stinchcomb of Ashtabula, O., in the Columbus trial.

Twenty-Four Athletes To Receive Awards At High School Tomorrow

Grade A court programs both locally and on opposing courts.

The gym team, after winning a warm-up meet against Oil City and Bradford, continued to automatically qualify for district honors when no opposition was offered, then resumed competition at Slippery Rock where it wrestled regional laurels, and concluded their season with a decisive triumph at State College.

As an added attraction for the assembly program tomorrow, Leidy announced that the American League film, "The Ninth Inning," featuring the late Lou Gehrig and other diamond luminaries, will be shown.

A list of the athletes receiving "W's" will be printed tomorrow along with a story on the assembly program.

SPORT SPATTERINGS

With a light one-two punch in the form of necessary questions, the school board okayed a proposal which your agent offered last night to organize a volunteer corps of baseball fans and players to go ahead and remodel the infield on Russell Field, and with just a few more problems to dispose of, work can be started on the latest and strongest effort to revive community baseball hereabouts.

But—it'll take between 20 and 30 willing and ambitious workers, not only players but fans also, to put this proposed program over, and this means that no one can say, "Well, it looks like things are moving along now toward a new Sunset League," and after that speech settle back in their comfy chairs and take a nap.

If this happens, we won't move at all and the baseball prospects for the community will be no further advanced than before.

Everybody has to pitch in this time, and this means you, and you and you. So, let's get on our toes, get out the shovels, and actually "dig" in.

There hasn't been any Sunset League in this town since 1939, and in those past two years the Russell Field diamond has depreciated more than grandpappy's 1900 style tuxedo.

That year a four-team circuit went all the way into late August, winding up with a seven-game series between Clarendon and the B. & E. Smoke Shop, with the former outfit finally winning out after the series had gone the full route.

Clarendon won both halves of the loop that year, but the Smoke Shop was next best in total decisions won and rated a playoff berth.

This year it looks like three teams are certain to enter any league organized, when, as and if.

Those awaiting progress leading to a circuit are the State Hospital, National Forge and Eagles.

A Fourth club can be picked up without too much trouble.

The last span of the Sunset or City baseball loop was from 1933 through 1939, seven years, and in that time some very successful and colorful seasons were realized.

In the earlier years crowds were large. They can be again.

In all fairness to the youth of the community, an opportunity to acquire some recreation ought to be offered.

As for fans in this borough, they, too, should be given some outdoor entertainment which will satisfy, and can.

With tire, gas and automobile rationing in effect, the time is budding for the revival of the Sunset League.

Let's not miss for the third straight summer.

Since duties keep some soldiers from going to USO and other parties, Army and USO take the parties to Atlantic seaboard units on guard 24 hours a day. Trooper assists girl into Army truck which will take her and others to dance at vital outpost.

PENN CENTER STAGING LOOP TOURNAMENT

The first competitive program to be offered by the new Penn Bowling Center will be presented this week tomorrow and Thursday evenings, when attractive alley scheduled matches will draw from the bowling fad in generous amounts as some interesting kegling seems to be on deck.

Tomorrow evening a choice Franklin team invades Harry Bitenbender's new emporium to tangle with a hand-picked local aggregation which includes on the roster Pete Juliano and Myron Check, one-two finishers for high average over the past season in the Arcade City League.

Thursday night will find the first big tournament to be staged on the eight new lanes, however, and fans are assured some good bowling with plenty of interest involved as the Commercial League teams meet in a one-night tourney to decide little but to have one whale of a good time.

The schedule for this event, which will include all eight outfits of the Arcade Commercial circuit, has been arranged so that in the four games rolled by each outfit, each team will have as opponents two teams which finished in the first division and two which finished in the second division during the past season.

Prizes of $5 for first, $3 for second and $2 for third will be awarded teams, while individual prizes of $2 for first and one dollar for second will be also awaiting claimants. And special awards of $1 for high single game and $2 for high team game, with like amounts for low single team and individual games will be provided.

Rasmussens, South Side Market Score In Elks League Roll-offs

Elks league rolloffs started last night, with scores luke warm but bowling tempers raging, and both the South Side Market and Rasmussens survive today after taking their respective elimination matches in two straight games.

Against new pins, the veteran stock of the Elks kegling fraternity found tough going, with the South Side Market winning their first game on 717 pins as the Warren Tank hit only 680. The next effort, however, was nearly at the other extreme as the winners counted 908 to boast high team game of the night, while the Tankers were compiling 836.

Pete Juliano and Stu Kuhre paced the winners with 356 and 354.

Rasmussens eliminated the Style Shop with games of 790 and 794 to 767 and 741. Jack Kopf outstanding with 356.

Everybody takes a breather at the Elks tonight with the rolloffs continuing tomorrow evening when Lewis Market and Pileggis tangle and National Transit mixes with Geracimos, both matches starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Meanwhile last night at the Arcade, the Industrial League picture changed again with only a week of the wars remaining.

Secret Orders BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

Chapter 23

Warning From Liu

GUY appeared at the library door, then, and spared Stephanie an answer. Later, she would think of a way to save Kurt from himself.

"Pardon the interruption, folks," Guy said, his eyes twinkling as Stephanie slipped out of Kurt's arms. "Don't tell me the blackout scared you that much, Stevie!"

Stephanie winced for Kurt's sake and hurried to interrupt. "Mind your own business, Daddy," she said saucily and then, noticing that he wore an overcoat, heavy shoes, "Where are you going?"

"Up to the plant," he pulled on heavy driving gloves. "Oh, Daddy, not tonight. Not this late."

"Have to. Had planned to go up tomorrow morning, but this blackout may have slowed them up, up there. I want to be sure."

He stepped as the sound of a door opening, closing came from the back of the house.

"Who was that?" Guy demanded.

"Oh, Tsang, probably," Stephanie replied, concerned at the thought of having her father away again. "Why do you have to go to Titan?"

"A special load of dynamite is going out tomorrow night. I want to be sure there is no hitch."

"Oh, Daddy, you will be careful and try—"

She stopped short as over her father's shoulder, she saw someone move out of the old-fashioned parlor beyond. "Who's that?" Then, as the man stepped into the light, "Henri! Mercy, how you startled me."

Henri smiled, came toward them. "Forgive me for bursting in this way. I stopped at Millers to deliver a package, so I took the liberty of coming through the sun-room entrance. I knocked but when no one answered, I boldly walked right in."

Guy scowled, jammed on his hat. "Well, I'll be seeing you. Bye, Stevie. Watch your step."

He brushed a kiss against Stephanie's cheek and stamped out with only a curt nod to Henri.

"Vicky will be back in a little while," Stephanie explained quickly trying to cover Guy's abruptness. "Sit down, won't you?"

And when he had taken the chair across the hearth from where Kurt sat, "Tell me what luck you've had tracing Hajami?"

Sparks

HENRI glanced quickly at Kurt. Then back to Stephanie who, answering the unspoken question, laughed. "Oh, Kurt knows all about it. He even has some theories about 'whodunnit' himself."

"Well, I am sorry to confess that I have been able to make very little progress. If I prod too much, I am sure the government authorities would become suspicious."

Stephanie scowled. "Well, perhaps we had better disregard Liu and give the problem to the F.B.I. After all, just because she is afraid of offending her family is no reason to—"

"I think that would be a mistake. Why, I am not at liberty to explain just now," he said, smiling confidently. "However, I do not think it is advisable for you to continue to have the girl live here at this house."

Startled, Stephanie stared at him. "But why not?"

"I think it involves you in some danger, unnecessarily."

"But why, Henri? She has done nothing. Surely she's safer here with us—"

"Undoubtedly. But are you safe with her here? That is the question."

"Well, safe or not, I'm certainly not going to send her back home now," Stephanie said positively. "She's been a wonderful help to Tsang. Besides, I want her here."

Henri shrugged. "That is for you to say. I only repeat that I think it would be safer."

Overheard?

STEPHANIE smiled as she went up the stairs. Vicky always managed to have an expensive time while she was at it.

The case put the Mrs. Daubney at Headquarters.

"We're terribly short-handed here tonight, Stephanie," the older woman said. "I simply have no one to take the midnight canteen. Could you possibly come down?"

"Certainly, I'll be there in half an hour."

"Thanks so much." The wire cracked as Mrs. Daubney hung up.

Then, just as Stephanie was about to replace the telephone in its cradle, there was another click. Alert, she listened. The wire hummed steadily. Thoughtfully, she put the instrument down. It had sounded exactly as if someone else had hung up too!

She shrugged out of the soft flower-print housecoat, stepped into the straight skirt of her uniform. But who would be eavesdropping on her conversations?

Someone tapped lightly at her door then.

"Come in," Stephanie called, buttoning her jacket.

It was Liu.

"Miss Merrill, I must speak with you for a moment. It is very important," she whispered, closing the door carefully.

"Of course. What is it?"

"It is about the tall gentleman—your friend. I am sure he is not trustworthy," she said calmly, only her tightly-clasped hands betraying her nervousness.

"Henri? But whatever makes you think that?" Stephanie demanded, puzzled.

"He has made several mysterious trips to the house on Farris Street where I am sure Hajami is being held prisoner. The pretty face paled even as she spoke. 'I know you will think I speak foolishly, Miss Merrill. But I am sure I do not.'"

"What makes you so sure, Liu?"

"Twice I have followed him, waited outside for a long time before he came out. What would he be doing in that awful place if it had nothing to do with Hajami?"

"How do you know that Hajami is there?"

"Because I went back to that number the man gave to me on the telephone. By daylight, I found it in a dark, side street. Like an alley. Please, Miss Merrill," her eyes begged for understanding. "I did not dream it. I am sure I saw his face, only for a moment, at the window."

For a moment, Stephanie could not believe that she had heard the girl correctly. "You saw Hajami? You saw Henri go into the same building? Are you positive?"

The girl nodded. "Positive. I swear it."

In this country and now, swimmer Allen is back in the Mediterranean service.

In contrast to Allen's action stories of planes and guns and ships was Ellen Glasgow's novel of family life in a sleepy Virginia town—"In This Our Life"—which won for the Richmond novelist the $500 Pulitzer award for an outstanding novel.

Pulitzer awards in other fields of journalism and letters as announced by the trustees of Columbia University on recommendation of the graduate school of journalism omitted the prize for the best original American play, as did the New York Drama Critics Circle, which three weeks ago decided there was no occasion for its annual award for a play.

(From Page One)
The tailors were given until May 30, originally, to stop cuffing pants, but this order has been clarified. No trousers may be cut with cuffs after May 9, and none delivered with cuffs after May 30.

But here's the reason it might be well to settle the whole thing quietly in the alley:
The War Production Board has announced that bootleggers of cuffs would be liable to a $10,000 fine and a year in prison.

That means, said the WPB, that a man who sews his own pants' cuff back on after May 30 is a bootlegger.

"Cuffless pants are what make dinner suits and formal evening clothes smart—they'll do the same for business suits," said one ready-made clothing operator.

Strategic Island Seized to Prevent Occupation by Japs

from this capital, a spokesman said.

Bitter fighting is in progress in the area around the border town of Wanting, still in Chinese hands, the spokesman reported.

In less than two months, the Japanese thus had driven 500 miles from Rangoon to China's back door. Rangoon fell March 8. In the battle for the approaches to Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that Allied warplanes again smashed hard at potential Japanese invasion bases at Lae, New Guinea, and Rabaul, New Britain.

Other Allied airmen beat off a Japanese raid on Port Moresby, United Nations base on New Guinea, damaging five enemy planes out of an attacking force of 19.

In the Philippines, a Tokyo broadcast asserted that Japanese troops had captured Davao on Mindanao island, 600 miles south of Manila, which is described as the capital of the refugee Filipino headquarters.

"Since the accession to power of Pierre Laval, the Axis threat to Madagascar had become greater than ever," he continued, "and the seriousness of that threat had been underlined during the past two or three days by the fact that Japanese admirals Nomura and Abe are apparently in Vichy where they are being handsomely entertained by the Vichy government."

A Reuters dispatch said the admirals, Japanese coordinators of strategy with Germany and Italy, had left by air for Berlin today. They had been expected to remain, according to Vichy advisers yesterday.

The British commentator said their presence in Vichy had been taken here as a sign that "yet further concessions by the Vichy government to the Axis and, in particular, to Japan" were imminent.

Even before Laval's restoration to power, he said, Vichy France had proved its unreadiness to "take the necessary measures to prevent its outlying possessions from being used by Axis powers as bases or stepping stones for the purpose of Axis strategy."

The coup by which a British land and sea force took over protection of Madagascar was announced in Washington and London last night.

"The occupation was in line with President Roosevelt's warning April 28 that the United Nations would take whatever measures necessary to prevent the Axis from using Vichy territory as bases."

It demonstrated the hardening of Washington's attitude since Laval's appointment as chief of government on April 14. The day before Laval came to power the state department had announced it would recognize any French government in control locally of French possessions—either Vichy men or Free French.

An island of nearly 4,000,000 population with an area almost as large as that of Texas, Madagascar lies in Indian ocean opposite Portuguese Mozambique, sheltering the 250-mile-wide Mozambique channel off the African east coast.

The east coast is almost a straight line, with a mountain range down the island's backbone. Its lush areas are devoted to extensive cultivation of rice, tobacco, coffee and hardwoods.

Challenge Is Made Hitler By Generals

London Hears Story of Discard Among Leaders in Fuehrer's System

NEW PLAN IS HINTED

BY ROBERT BUNNELLE

London, May 5.—(P)—A group of Adolf Hitler's generals headed by Field Marshal Walther Von Brauchitsch was reported today to have told the Fuehrer bluntly that if his 1942 campaign in Russia fails, they will try to institute for Germany an alternate plan of their own calling for "abolition of the Nazi system."

A responsible source with unusually reliable information about conditions inside Germany said Hitler had accepted this challenge calmly and appointed Von Brauchitsch a member of the supreme command.

Hitler relieved Von Brauchitsch as commander in chief last Dec. 21 and announced that he himself, relying on his "intuition", had assumed direct command of his armies.

"The source said the incident might be interpreted in two ways: 1. That Hitler was confident of victory but needed the help of his former commander-in-chief and Von Brauchitsch's friends and hoped his appointment would win over critics; or

2. That he was beginning to recognize his weakness and was seeking compromise. Von Brauchitsch was one of the strongest opponents of Hitler's plan for holding the forward positions in Russia through the winter and counseled a fall back from Moscow long before Hitler agreed.

There was no hint in the information reaching London whether the Von Brauchitsch clique threatened Hitler with displacement or promised him some kind of chairmanship in the new order they would institute if his plans failed, the source said.

The informant added that he believed the dissident generals might want to turn the campaign elsewhere, rather than to Russia, and to halt offensive warfare and seek to hold Germany's gains by defensive fighting. The clique might even strive by the removal of Hitlerism to gain a negotiated peace favorable to Germany, the source said.

Large Number in County Are Registered For Sugar Cards

Nearly 10,000 persons, approximately one-fourth of the county population, made application for sugar rationing books yesterday—the first day for residents to register to receive the commodity for home consumption it was revealed today by the Warren County Rationing Board.

According to the board, there were 9,747 applications at the various elementary schools in the county, with 9,604 ration books being issued.

In Warren borough, the total registration yesterday was 3,436 persons, with 3,357 books being issued.

The number of applications filed at the various schools, according to John G. Rossman, superintendent, was as follows: East street, 719; Home street, 336; Jefferson, 600; Lacy, 511; McClintock, 389; Seneca, 250; South street, 631.

Mr. Rossman said this morning that some delays in registration were reported, a number of persons having long waits. This was particularly true at East street and Jefferson, he said.

However, with the registrars more familiar with the work, the enrollment is expected to be speeded up on the remaining days.

The registration continues today, Wednesday and Thursday, with the schools open from 4 to 9 p. m.

Warren Young Man Writes of Life in Air Training Base

The following interesting letter has just been received by the Times-Mirror from Pvt. Jack Zeres, local young man who left with the group of selectees on April 24:

"Am sending the letter you asked for. Three of Warren's selectees are in Miami, training for an air squadron, (the 29th), Lanky Holcomb, Francis Ponsoll and myself passed exams and are attending Bombing and Gunnery School. Ponsoll has a test to pass for training as a rear gunner.

"We are all green and we just had our first flight in a flying fortress.

"It was the first time in the air for Ponsoll and Holcomb. After next month, I will write and let you know who made the grade. We are staying in the Royal Palm Hotel and eat our meals over at the St. Moritz. Seven hours of school is our work per day. Otherwise we swim or fish, even play golf. If this is the modern idea of barracks, I'll stay in the Army for keeps. Tell Ray Stein that Ponsoll (his stockboy) is a good guesser when it comes to taking ex on paper. How about a little spattering for the boys and 1? People in Warren should hear about this."

WITH THE CANDIDATES

BY TOM REEDY

Seranton, May 5—(P)—The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor decided today to avoid any open endorsement of candidates for the gubernatorial nomination in the May 19 primary.

James L. McDewitt, president of the AFL group, announced the decision was reached by the federation's executive committee after a lengthy discussion.

Behind the reasons for the discussion were the desires of some of the leaders to bring about an endorsement. McDewitt himself is supporting Judge Ralph H. Smith of Pittsburgh for the Democratic nomination for governor.

David Williams, secretary-treasurer of the federation, is a backer of Major General Edward Martin who is opposing U. S. Senator James J. Davis for the Republican nomination.

Williams' support of Martin led to some controversy over whether he should be slated for re-election as secretary-treasurer.

A. F. L. leaders said William Green, president of the national organization and a Davis supporter, urged that Williams be given opposition in balloting and as a consequence, the candidacy of Robert P. Loneragan, business agent of the municipal workers, against Williams, was disclosed. Loneragan is from Olyphant.

The wide difference of opinion among the craft union chieftains over the Pennsylvania primary was said to have prompted the "hands off" decision of the executive committee.

McDewitt was accorded a third two-year term last night when leaders of the convention said he would be unopposed. The formality of nominating him on Wednesday will be followed by the "election" Thursday.

The delegates virtually sealed the bargain by a spontaneous burst of cheering when Speaker Elmer Kiley of the Pennsylvania legislature observed in a speech that he hoped the P. F. of L. would "keep McDewitt in the driver's seat."

against each other."

Smith said he referred to Brigadier General Edward Martin and Senator James J. Davis, Republican gubernatorial candidates, adding:

"In my opinion, I think they are both telling the truth."

The Pittsburgh jurist, running with the backing of Senator Joseph F. Guffey, was optimistic of his chances at both the primary and the general election.

"We have won the fight, on the strength of week-end developments," said Smith as he cited announcement of his endorsement by James P. Clark, Philadelphia, Democratic chairman.

HARR IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, May 5—(P)—Cynicism by a people, in the opinion of Luther Harr, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, can become more harmful than all the fifth columnists at the command of Hitler.

Harr made known his views last night in a speech before the Pittsburgh Hungry club, a non-partisan organization.

"When the people of a nation become overly cynical, not even Maginot Line can save them," he said. "The cynical view that a government is corrupt, that a politician is venal, that a business is based upon exploitation, that the public service is manned wholly by political bribe and that all the press is controlled is more harmful than the fifth columnists at the command of Hitler."

Harr said the aspect of American democracy is changing: The in Woodrow Wilson's day democracy was identified with the "freedom" while "more recent democracy, in the popular sense, represents the aspirations with the compass of an economic movement which ears the stamp of the new deal."

Seek Protection Against Hay Fever

BY PAUL BRAUNSCHWEIGER of the Mullen Drug Co.

It is time to seek immunity from one of the most uncomfortable disorders of late summer—hay fever. Early treatment by your doctor can lighten, perhaps even eliminate, the distress which occurs so persistently with hot weather.

Every hay fever patient is a law unto himself. The susceptibility of each patient is different and naturally the treatment in matters of diet and habits of living varies. Obtain a doctor's careful advice.

Nor is there any substitute for the skill of a qualified druggist who brings experience and expert training to his work.

Ramming: Doughty Russians' New Air-Fighting Technique

CRACKER-UPPER

BUZZ-SAW

A new kind of aerial warfare is being fought high in the skies over Soviet Russia today. No longer is a dog fight between enemy planes over when both sides run out of ammunition. Red Air Force pilots have worked out three systems of attack, sketched above, to knock out Nazi bombers after all ammunition has been fired.

The "Clip and Run," least dangerous to the attacking pilot, but one of the most difficult to maneuver, involves making slight contact with the enemy's wing or tail with the attacker's own wing.

Simplest, but most dangerous to attacking pilot, is the "Cracker-Upper." This attack is a direct ramming of the enemy ship.

The "Buzz-Saw" is one of the surest, requires consummate flying skill. In this gun-less attack, fighter pilot noses up behind enemy, slices vital part of enemy fuselage—stabilizer and rudder, for example—with his propeller.

Soviet pilots have used all three systems with excellent results, losing few of their own planes. Success depends on the pilot's skill in dropping away from the rammed enemy plane in a split second after contact, thus avoiding becoming tangled up in falling enemy wreckage.
